

DR. FREDERICK LEWERENZ

1984

Dr. Lewerenz has been involved with Michigan racquetball since 1971. As a player, Dr. Lewerenz has accumulated one of the most impressive list of tournament victories of any player in the state. He is the winner of 140 tournaments, including ten Michigan state titles and six regional titles. He was a participant in the USRA national professional tour from 1975 to 1976.

Dr. Lewerenz is also the principal organizer of the Michigan Super Seven Series, the largest amateur series in the United States. Fred received the Michigan "Man of the Year" award in 1982 and the "Outstanding Contribution" award in 1983.

Outside of racquetball, Dr. Lewerenz is the physician for the Kronk Boxing Team, Tommy Hearn and many entertainers, such as Englebert Humperdink and the late Elvis Presley.

He is married to Chris and has three boys.

Dr. Lewerenz graduated from the Missouri Medical School and presently operates two sports clinics in Michigan.

Dr. Lewerenz sponsors numerous amateur players and is the business manager and agent for five time national champion, Mike Yellen, and world champion, Egan Inoue.
